FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

WHAT IS LAMINATE FLOORING?

Laminate flooring is a synthetic, multi-layered material designed to mimic the look and feel of natural hardwood floors. It is typically made of four main areas – a melamine wear layer, a high-resolution printed design layer, a high density fiberboard (HDF) core layer, and a protective balancing layer.

IS LAMINATE FLOORING WATERPROOF?

Laminate flooring is water resistant, but it is not entirely waterproof. Our Fairhaven Laminate range is proudly made with Dunlop H20PRO™, a high-density fiberboard featuring a water resistant core lock, offering up to 100 hours protection against moisture.

Always clean up spills promptly to ensure the longevity of your laminate floors. It is also not recommended for installation in wet areas such as laundries and bathrooms, as it does not meet the National Construction Code (NCC) and Australian Standard 3740:2021.

HOW DOES FLOORING WITH AN ANGLE ANGLE LOCKING SYSTEM MAKE A DIFFERENCE?

Developed by Unilin, the inventors of the original glueless click flooring, the patented locking system offers exceptional durability and ease of use. Its precisionengineered locking mechanism creates a tight, secure fit that keeps your flooring firmly in place.

Designed with DIYers in mind, the user-friendly Angle/ Angle installation method makes it fast and easy to install—perfect for both home improvement enthusiasts and professionals alike.

WHY IS A HIGH-DENSITY BOARD HDF THE PREFERRED CHOICE FOR DURABLE PRODUCTS?

Most high-quality laminate floors feature an HDF core, which offers a strong, impact-resistant foundation built to withstand daily wear and tear. This durable core provides excellent stability, resisting warping, swelling, and temperature changes. Despite its toughness, HDF remains surprisingly affordable, delivering durability and performance comparable to engineered timber. Plus, it's made from recycled wood fibres, making it an eco-friendly choice that helps reduce environmental impact.

WHAT'S THE SIGNIFICANCE OF AN AC4 MELAMINE WEAR LAYER*?

The melamine wear layer is a type of resin applied to the surface of the flooring that acts as a protective shield that enhances resistance to scratches and stains.

The AC in AC4 stands for Abrasion Class, a rating system used to measure the durability of laminate flooring, ranging from AC1 (light residential use) to AC5 (commercial use). Hence, a rating of AC4 indicates that the flooring can withstand moderate to heavy residential traffic or light commercial settings.

In conclusion, an AC4 melamine wear layer provides significant resistance against daily wear and tears, scratches and stains, making it perfect for both homes and light commercial spaces.

UP TO 100 HOURS PROTECTION AGAINST MOISTURE

Fairhaven Laminate range is proudly made with Dunlop H20PRO™, a high-density fiberboard featuring a water-resistant core lock, offering up to 100 hours protection against moisture.

EASY TO CLEAN

We recommend the use of Bona Floor Care products to keep your floors looking brand new and your home beautiful.

An immaculate home in 2 simple steps

1. Remove loose dirt, grit and dust with a Bona Dusting Pad. If using a vacuum cleaner, ensure the cleaning head has a soft brush to prevent the occurrence of scratches on the floor surface.
2. Use a Bona Spray Mop with Bona Stone, Tile & Laminate Cleaner for a spotless finish.
